I first met her when we were in high school. We have known each other for more than 10 years now, and during this time, she has had a significant impact on my life.

Sarah is quite tall, with long brown hair and bright green eyes. She usually wears casual clothes, like jeans and a t-shirt, which suits her easy-going personality.

What I like most about Sarah is her kindness. She is always willing to help others, no matter how busy she is. For example, last year, she organized a charity event to help underprivileged children, which shows how generous she is.

I admire Sarah because she is incredibly hardworking and determined. She recently completed a marathon, even though she had never run long distances before. Her dedication and perseverance are truly inspiring.

In conclusion, Sarah is someone who has made a lasting impression on me. She continues to inspire me every day, and I feel very fortunate to have her in my life.

Script: Describing a Place

Describe a place you like to visit.

You should say:

- Where it is
- How you first heard about it
- What you can do there
- And explain why you like to visit it

* (YOU NEED TO CHANGE THE TENSES WHERE NECESSARY)

One place I really enjoy visiting is [Name of the Place]. It's located in [City/Town/Country], and it's known for its beautiful scenery and peaceful atmosphere.

I first heard about this place from a friend who visited it a few years ago. They showed me pictures, and I was immediately drawn to how calm and relaxing it looked. Since then, I've made it a point to visit whenever I can.

There are a lot of things to do there. For example, you can go for a walk around the area, enjoy the fresh air, and take in the stunning views. There's also a nice café where you can sit and enjoy a cup of coffee while looking at the surroundings. If you're interested in history, there's a small museum that tells you about the local culture and traditions.

The reason I like visiting this place so much is that it's a great escape from the busy city life. Whenever I go there, I feel like I can completely relax and unwind. The environment is very soothing, and it helps me clear my mind and recharge my energy.

Overall, [Name of the Place] is somewhere I always look forward to visiting because it offers a perfect blend of natural beauty, tranquility, and a bit of history.

Script: Describing an Event

Describe an event you attended recently.

You should say:

- What the event was
- Where it took place
- Who was there
- and explain how you felt about the event.

* (YOU NEED TO CHANGE THE TENSES IF NECESSARY)

One event that I attended recently was a wedding ceremony. It was the wedding of one of my close friends, and it took place last month. The ceremony was held at a beautiful outdoor venue in the countryside, surrounded by trees and flowers. The weather was perfect that day, which made the event even more special.

The wedding was attended by many people, including the couple's family, friends, and colleagues. Everyone was dressed elegantly, and there was a joyful atmosphere throughout the day. The ceremony itself was very emotional, with heartfelt vows exchanged between the bride and groom. After the ceremony, there was a reception with delicious food, music, and dancing.

I felt very happy and honored to be part of such a special occasion. Seeing my friend so happy on her big day was truly a memorable experience. The event was also a great opportunity to catch up with old friends and meet new people. Overall, it was a wonderful day filled with love, laughter, and unforgettable memories.

Script: Describing a Skill

Describe a skill you have learned that is useful in your life.

You should say:

- what the skill is
- how and where you learned it
- how you use this skill
- and explain how it has helped you.

* (YOU NEED TO CHANGE THE TENSES IF NECESSARY)

One skill that I have learned, which has been very useful in my life, is time management. Time management is the ability to plan and control how much time you spend on specific activities. This skill helps me to be more productive and less stressed.

I learned time management during my high school years when I had to balance studying, extracurricular activities, and spending time with my family and friends. It was a challenging period because I often felt overwhelmed by the amount of work I had to do. To cope, I started using a planner to schedule my daily tasks. I also learned some techniques, like prioritizing important tasks and setting deadlines.

I use this skill in many areas of my life. For example, when I have an important exam or project, I create a study schedule to make sure I cover all the topics on time. At work, I make a to-do list every day, which helps me stay organized and finish my tasks efficiently. Even in my personal life, I use time management to balance work, hobbies, and relaxation.

This skill has helped me in many ways. First, it has made me more organized and efficient. I can now complete tasks faster and with less stress. Second, it has improved my ability to focus, as I know what I need to do and when I need to do it. Finally, time management has given me more free time, which I can spend on things I enjoy, like reading or exercising.

In conclusion, time management is a valuable skill that I use every day. It has made my life more organized, productive, and enjoyable.

Script: Describing a Memory

Describe a memorable event from your childhood. You should say:

- What the event was
- When and where it happened
- Who was there with you
- And explain why it is memorable

* (YOU CAN CHANGE THE PLACES AND PERSONS IF NECESSARY)

One of the most memorable events from my childhood was a family trip to the beach. This happened when I was about eight years old, during the summer holidays. We went to a beach that was about an hour away from our home. The weather was perfect, with clear skies and a gentle breeze.

I was there with my parents and my younger brother. I remember we all woke up early in the morning, excited for the day ahead. My mom packed a big picnic basket with sandwiches, fruit, and snacks, and my dad loaded up the car with all the beach gear like towels, an umbrella, and a cooler.

When we arrived at the beach, I was amazed by the view. The ocean was vast and seemed endless. The sound of the waves crashing against the shore was so calming. We spent the whole day playing in the sand, building sandcastles, and swimming in the sea. I remember feeling so free and happy, without a care in the world.

What makes this memory particularly special is how close we felt as a family that day. We didn't have any distractions, like work or school, and we could just enjoy each other's company. My brother and I had a lot of fun together, and I remember how my parents laughed and joined in our games.

To this day, whenever I think about that trip, it brings a smile to my face. It was a simple day, but it was filled with joy and love. This memory stands out to me because it reminds me of the importance of family and spending quality time together.
